PIG PREDICTS "RECORD" FALL

65-70 COTTON PARK EAST (PT. 5)-Pig Productions, although currently split by the Atlantic, predicts that the up-coming autumn months will find the company reunited and re-energized. There will be much to

POP STAR FEARED DEAD

(Sunny) South Kensington-(DC5)-A city of beat music lovers were near panic last week after it was learned that one Dave Clark was among those near hit by an IRA bombing here. Dave Clark turned out to be Pig London's room-mate from Australia-not the British pop star of yesterday. Both Daves are not in bits and pieces: both are A.O.K.

look forward to in '75's remaining months" Pig representative Gary Creighton reported from Pig's temporary overseas HQ. "I am particularly anxious to arrange a meet between Doug Pelton (Pig South) and John Pinto (Pig East), with perhaps even Roy Fumess (Pig West). Yes, indeed, autumn holds much ado ahead for us all!"

EXCLUSIVE... CREIGHTON IN LONDON!

Yes, after a year's delay, Pig's Gary Creighton arrived safely in London early August 29. He immediately found the city to his liking: "It has the enormosity of a NYC with the laid-backness of a T.O" he said, motioning, arms outstretched, to the town which lay below his window. "With the grace of God (and the Post Office), this could become a yearly outing". Creighton returns to Canada Sept. 18th (if he eludes the IRA bombs).

FISH / PIG REP. IN IRA BOMB EVACUATION

LONDON (TURN UP VOLUME): A scant two hours after the fatal IRA London Hilton Hotel bombing yesterday, Pig representative Gary Crayfish was one of those who were speedily evacuated by Scotland Yard bomb squads as the result of a bomb scare in the Victoria Station. After having already witnessed audibly a bombing his 1st night in London, Crayfish reported: "Once is enough, thank you."

SPECIAL VOL 4 / NO. 2 THE PIG PAPER NEWSFLASH

PIG TRACKS DOWN T. BIRD STILLS: SOHO

SOHO OPEN MARKET (VFLOP) - Whilst nonchalantly exploring the mysterious sales stalls of this popular tourist attraction, Pig London correspondent Gary Crayon unearthed, straight from the proverbial horse's mouth, information regarding the availability of stills from Gerry and Sylvia Cotton's cinematic mudstone "Thunderbyrds Are Go!": Available are two sets of 8 stills from the movie, making a total of 16. To order, one must first write to the address on the card enclosed to secure the items (being sure to enclose one International Reply Coupon - available from Richardson at the Post Office - for return postage). You must also make special note that you "are the friend of the gentleman (Mr. Creighton) who bought the set of Beatles post-cards", and tell him exactly what you want. He will then return reply confirming availability, and cost, to which you reply by forwarding the actual order itself. "I could not see the sets because they were not in his Soho stall, but I told him of your G.T.S. A mania, and he can fill you in fully. This man stocks Ciné Books, by the way" Mr. Creighton said. Write immediately, to avoid disappointment.

PIG'S LAST IN LONDON

BAYSWATER (ENG)-It has been confirmed today that Pig's London interests will remain based in the South until the triumphant return home in seven days. Sidetrips to Liverpool and to the "Continent" have been temporarily postponed.

"The decision to remain in London was made due to the sudden discovery of a rash of new and second-hand bookshops nearby", Pig's overseas correspondent Rudolph Incubator-Jones revealed recently. "Plus, economic reasons as well helped us reach a decision. We have bought so much!" Yes, the music and literary libraries of both Pigs north and south stand to be much added to come September the 18.

HAVING A WILD EVENING

by HERMAN GOODEN II

It wasn't your average pop movie: in fact it wasn't your average ANYTHING. Acting: Miss Ferris—occasionally convincing/Dave—wooden (but perhaps purposefully so)/The 5—not as good as the Beatles or Pacemakers/others—typical. Score: A.1! Particularly effective was the use of "Ol' Sol" in the party sequence. Writing: solid—hasn't dated a bit. Direction: sometimes. (3½ stars)

F Pig London's HQ has F a new room-mate L a student from A a student from R Malaysia. Pop S star Eric Burdon H still on critical list after accident

PIG VIEWS TROGGS!

(NOT SO SUNNY) WEST KENSINGTON - Pig's first mission while in London was to check the concert pages, and what was found was worth checking for: The Troggs. Regt Crew have never looked or sounded better: Love was all around amongst the overflow audience. In fact, one wild thing admitted to Pig's attender that her father once employed ex-Troog Chris Britton! Also on the famed payroll were several of Dave, Dee, Dozy, Mick etc. And this all happened in a small club known as The Nashville, wherein the jukebox was filled with a solid Pig Chart collection of fave raves. This blockbuster of a concert left Pig unable to control themselves wondering who will appear next there - Dave? Gerry? Wayne? William Ashton?

PYTHON CLEESE SPOTTED IN W. END THEATRE

PARIS (FROG) - Pig's until-recently London co-hort, Australian Dave Clark (see IV #1) reported from his new lodgings here, in the shadow of the Eifel Tower, the viewing of John Cleese and wife at a cinema screening in London's prestigious West End. The tall Mr. Cleese, 47, best known for his skits concerning "unsuccessful rage and the plight of the British consumer-at-large within a mechanised ethos" that played prominently in the BBC TV series Monty Python's Flying Circus, told Mr. Clark of his presence within the theatre that eve: "Shakespeare's Gay Boys In Bondage was sold out!" Clever, John.
